Dear Henry:

After sending the standard thank-you letter to those who were involved in the Handbook's development, I felt that you deserve a little more...

I am not sure that you knew what you were getting into when you offered to help us with the Handbook, a year or so ago... All the same you were always there for us, whether to discuss format matters or content, evaluation, etc., with good advice and refreshing ideas.

It was a pleasure to work with you, and I hope we will have other opportunities to do so in the future.

Very truly yours,

Ella Amir
Executive Director
